| TRAVEL BLOG |

Hey There!

Welcome to Escape to Earth!

My name is Jess, and I am obsessed with all things travel. I'm currently working a full-time office job, based in the UK and travelling in between work.

So far, I've been to 32 countries spread across 4 continents and I'm here to share the best – and the worst – of all things travel related.

Working with Jess has been an absolute pleasure. From the moment she contacted me to now, our working relationship has always been so rewarding. We both love bouncing ideas off each other and the collaborative process always turns out lush! I can't wait to design more for Escape to Earth.
